PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By Brenda Brush

Neptune beckons us to go within, to get in touch with our inner vision and to trust that process. Externally, Neptune rules music, art, poetry, photography and the virtual world that we have come to know over the last couple of decades. Internally, it makes us question. Is it real or is it created virtually? The technology, now, is able to create things that look more real than the real thing. This has also produced scam artists, who can fool you with their reproductions. So, we have Neptune's ability for us to create a more beautiful world, because we can bring to life what we feel inside. We also have the external illusions that can pull us away from what our mission really is.

This year, the North Node of the Moon is moving through Pisces for the first time in 18½ years. This sign is ruled by Neptune, so it is bringing our attention to what we believe in and what we can manifest. When there is a New Moon within 17 degrees of the North Node, it is a North Nodal Solar Eclipse. This invites us into this part of our chart to test us on how well we handle this area. This particular Eclipse that will occur on March 18th will bring out the need to get in touch with how we feel inside. Do we embrace our inner vision or are we afraid of it, and are we continually seeking to fill it with the craving for something external? We try to fill the void. That may be the issue with obesity in this country. We are filling the void with food. We can also be filling the void with excessive activity. None of this satisfies, so the chase continues, and the emptiness prevails. This Eclipse is a portal through which you can find the way within.

The Planet Neptune, this year, is in full phase with Saturn. This means they are in opposition to each other by aspect. Something in our life needs to be brought into balance, whether we like it or not. You may be drawn more and more to books that teach you how to trust your inner urgings. We are all creative beings, and we have come to share what we have. What did you bring that you need to get in touch with and can share with others? This, in turn, will bring fulfillment and satisfy the void.

With all this emphasis on the Pisces house in your chart and the house your Neptune is in, it would be a good idea to develop the tools to help you understand this part of you. What are the tools, you might ask? Learn to meditate, develop a yoga practice, create space in your life to breathe, and do things that are random acts of kindness.

Where Pisces is in your chart, the ego is dissolved and we get in touch with where we might feel imprisoned. We only feel imprisoned or unappreciated in this area when our ego is attached to the results. The ego must be out of the way. Have no expectations, and open up to something that is way bigger than you are.

Where Pisces is in your chart is where you are the Genie in the bottle. You can never be trapped, but you have to believe.

Where Neptune is in your chart is where you gain the experiences necessary to dissolve the crystallization in the Pisces area. This, in turn, opens a portal to infinite change.

It is interesting that the Eclipses this year are in Pisces, which is Neptune's sign, and at the same time that Saturn and Neptune have reached this Full Phase. Pisces and the Planet Neptune have no boundaries. They have to do with infinite possibility. It is that area of our chart that is the breeding ground for all of our patterns, set up by Saturn. What do we believe, what have we worked on, and where have we created obstacles? We are finding out now. The light is shining in the Pisces area of your chart. All the bits and pieces, all the loose ends, all the fragments of all that we have experienced since 1989 will come together now and be revealed.

The last time the North Nodal Solar Eclipses were in Pisces was March 7, 1989, in 17 degrees Pisces. Isn't it amazing, that is when Saturn and Neptune joined to start their cycle, which is now Full right when the Eclipses are in Pisces again? What has reached a peak in your life? What needs redefining? Let it happen so you can see; trust the process and go within to make the necessary changes. This is a wonderful cycle to check on yourself. Do you like what you see?

Blessings,
Brenda

LECTURE

Thursday, March 15

7 p.m., registration
& socializing
7:30 – 10 p.m., program

“THE LAW OF ATTRACTION”

How does your astrological chart help or hinder this law? The Moon, a satellite of the earth and the lens through which everything is filtered, describes the emotion, memory and feelings that come along with all experience.

There are eight phases in a lunar cycle. What was the phase of the Moon when you were born? Understand the way you are wired emotionally.

Where was the Solar Eclipse prior to your birth? What did you come to share? That degree, sign and house is an open doorway from which energy flows to you, that you have the privilege of sharing.

We will also discuss the current Solar Eclipse that is happening on March 18th and what opportunities that offers us. Solar Eclipses bring a need and an opportunity to expand that space at a physical, emotional, mental or spiritual level. This Eclipse will occur at 28 degrees Pisces 07 minutes and is square to Pluto. This certainly intensifies it.

We will also look at the Saros cycle of this Eclipse. It is 9 New North. This Eclipse family started August 21, 1664, and will end September 18, 2908.

Venus is the planet of attraction. Let's also look at what Venus is doing in the sky this year that may correspond to the portals that are opening with this Eclipse.

WORKSHOP

Saturday, March 17

10 a.m. – 5 p.m.

“EDUCATION & CHART READING”

This is the third workshop that we are devoting to learning how to read charts by featuring charts of those present. In addition to everything else that we will see in the charts, we will take a look at the natal Moon phase, the prenatal eclipse and Venus, to expand on what we learned from Thursday's lecture.

Everyone in the audience – from neophytes to advanced astrologers – will help unlock the secrets of the charts featured. If your chart is chosen, you must be willing to give feedback after the reading is done.

JUPITER TRINE SATURN

By Alice Kashuba

An astrological chart has many energies at work. While we are focusing on the eclipse energies this month, there is a trine between Jupiter in Sagittarius and Saturn retrograde in Leo in the Solar Eclipse chart.

One of my favorite quotes is found in Alice Howell's book, Jungian Symbolism in Astrology, in which she refers to Rowley's Principles of Chinese

Paintings. "When you expand (k'ai) you should think about gathering up (ho), and then there will be structure; when you gather up (ho) you should think about expanding (k'ai), and then you will have inexpressible effortlessness and an air of inexhaustible spirit."

Since July of 2005, Saturn has been living in Leo – the sign of the 5th house of the Sun – awakening us to be responsible for our personal passion. Jupiter in Scorpio made a 1st quarter square to Saturn in Leo on December 17, 2005, at 10 Scorpio urging us to go deep within and embrace that passion. Jupiter squared Saturn two more times June 22, 2006, at 9 Scorpio and October 25, 2006, at 23 Scorpio.

Look at those dates and the houses in your chart where these aspects would have fallen. Here is where you would have connected to your passion and received information about how to give it form and structure. With Jupiter, now at 19 Sagittarius making the trine to Saturn, it is time to move forward with joy, although with caution because Saturn is retrograde. But that is ok when you take responsibility at an initial stage of expansion. No need to rush forward. But stay focused on your passion.

The symbol¹ for Saturn is 20 Leo: People watching over sea turtle's nest in shifts – protecting the nest so that new births can take place. Jupiter at 20 Sagittarius: A small Asian child standing in the palm of a giant's hand. As we are watching over our plans, the Universal force is watching over each of us.

¹ The Fairchild Symbols are a modern version of the Sabian Symbols and were created by Alice Kashuba and an anonymous clairvoyant. For information, visit Alice's website, www.astroviews.com.
